

The critical path is marked in bold red – specify overall system -> specify module C -> check specifications -> design module A -> code/test module A -> integration/test system. Within this path all possible delays (floats) are 0.

The earliest possible finish date is after 112 days.